

INDIANA AND MICHIGAN STATE HAPPENINGS

GOOD RECORD IS SET AT INSANE ASYLUM

Meals Served at Central Institution Cost Only Six Cents Each.

News-Times Special Service:

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 28.—As an illustration of the method of handling the state institutions, a fair showing is that made by Dr. George F. Edenharter and the trustees of the Central hospital for the insane. Dr. Edenharter has been the superintendent of this institution for 23 years. Under his management the hospital has made and sustained a reputation and is looked upon as a model by the men of all countries who are most interested and able in the study of the care of the insane.

The report made by Dr. Edenharter a few days ago, covering the year 1915, shows among other things that during the 23 years under one management there has not been a single year showing a deficit, and there has not been a year in which some balance has not been turned back to the state treasury. The sum turned back has aggregated $179,271.89.

The nature of the ailments of the persons confined in this institution makes it especially desirable that they be well cared for and this has always been uppermost in the mind of the superintendent and trustees. There are also reasons why it is more difficult to economize in any one of the many departments. The specifications for the food supply is the very best quality in every instance and these specifications are shown in the annual report. There is shown the surprising figures that the subsistence expense per capita has been six cents per meal. But still more surprising is that the entire expense of the institution shows 62 cents a day for each patient. On this point the official report makes this comment:

About Hospital Equipment. "In connection with the foregoing calculation, it should be borne in mind; that this was the first hospital for the insane in Indiana; that the original building, the department for men, was constructed in 1847, and that the deterioration therein is extensive; that the institution as a whole does not represent modern ideas of arrangement or construction; that this fact hampers the management in economy of service; that many of the buildings are old; that much of the equipment is worn; that the demands for repair of buildings and replacement of equipment are insistent and constant; that the heating system is antiquated, unsystematic and therefore expensive; that our tillable ground is confined to about 49 acres; that the property valuation on Sept. 30, 1915, was $2,671,032.24; that we had during the years a general average number of patients, 1,539.59; that we had an average number of employees, 328.76; that the per capita expenditure per patient from all funds, 62 cents a day, includes maintenance and repair of the property and equipment, clothing, provisions and food, physicians' services, scientific research, separate hospital facilities, nursing and care, medical and surgical supplies, salaries and wages, fuel, light and water, furniture and bedding, household and laundry supplies, printing, postage, telephone, telephone and transportation expenses, music and entertainments, subsistence, housing and care for the employees. In fact, this 62 cents a day per patient covers all of the disbursement which was found necessary to carry out the purpose of the institution.

STATE STANDS HIGH IN HEALTH WORK DONE

Indiana Sixth in Efficiency But 26th as Concerns Money Expended.

International News Service:

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 28.—Comparisons among all the state boards of health in the country show that Indiana stands 26th in line when consideration is given to the amount of money appropriated for health work. The same comparisons show Indiana stands sixth in line when consideration is given to the question of efficiency.

The report was received by the state board of health from the American Medical society. The report follows a survey of all state boards in the country made by Dr. Charles Chapin, health commissioner of Providence, R. I., author and health authority who was commissioned by the medical society to make the investigation.

The five states standing above Indiana in efficiency are Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Minnesota and New Jersey. The per capita proportion made for health work in the six states was as follows: Massachusetts, 4.95 cents; New York, 3.87 cents; Pennsylvania, 12.7 cents; Minnesota, 3.25 cents; New Jersey, 4.47 cents; Indiana, 2.32 cents.

In some matters Indiana led all states. In percentages granted for the distribution of literature to mothers and for lectures given, as educational health campaigns Indiana was first.

Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner, is pleased with the report and says the state will have a higher standing before the next investigation is made. He says the all-time health officer plan is a good one and will be presented to the next legislature by the state board. This plan has been adopted by Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania.

DESERTS HIS FAMILY

News-Times Special Service: NILES, Mich., Feb. 28.—John Clemens, who formerly resided on the Beebe mint farm in Howard township, has deserted his family, comprising his wife and nine children, and the police are looking for him.

Clemens left his home in Howard township about three weeks ago, and his wife has not heard from him and knows nothing of his whereabouts.

Mrs. Clemens is in almost destitute circumstances. The youngest of the nine children is two years old and the prospects of the advent of the tenth in the near future makes her circumstances exceptionally unfortunate.

The family has come to Niles, and the local charity society is providing for the immediate needs of the household.

The mother's delicate health makes it almost impossible for her to do anything to relieve the condition of the family. The police will do everything in their power to locate the husband and the head of the family, and bring him to terms. No reason for his sudden disappearance can be given by his wife.

Captain Seeks to Get a Motorcycle, Three Aeroplanes and Four Carriers.

International News Service: INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 28.—Capt. George L. Bumbaugh, in charge of the aero corps of the Indiana National guard, today started his work of organizing a company. Bumbaugh is donating his services to the state and also the use of his 140-horsepower aeroplane, which is capable of carrying three passengers and a machine gun. The only expense the state will stand is that of uniforms for the members of the company.

Bumbaugh also has been authorized by the state to attend the Curtiss aeroplane school at Buffalo.

Bumbaugh also will start a campaign to obtain funds with which to equip the company with a motorcycle, three aeroplanes and four carriers. He says he has no doubt this money can be obtained through his connection with the Aero club of America.

No applications for membership have yet been received, but it is expected a flood of mail will follow the announcement that Bumbaugh has been authorized to go ahead with the organization. Bumbaugh expects to have the organization completed so it can assist in the work of the guard at the next encampment.

MUTES ARE WEDDED IN UNIQUE CEREMONY

After Young People Fall in Love They Learn to Say "I Will" and Are Married.

KOKOMO, Ind., Feb. 28.—Reading the lips of the Rev. James A. Sprague, pastor of Main Street M. E. church, Miss Eva Pearl Miller tonight "heard" him ask the binding question:

"Do you take this man to be your lawfully wedded husband?" and, with her hand clasping that of Oliver Greer, she spoke the only words she had learned to speak after long, hard practice, "I will."

Both Miss Miller and Mr. Greer are mutes. Their engagement followed a romance which began in the school for mutes at Indianapolis. The ceremony which made them man and wife was performed at the parsonage and was done by lip reading.

Both the young people had learned to vocalize the words "I will" and there was no hitch in the ceremony, which was witnessed by many intimate friends.

MYTHS SHATTERED

Oldest Pioneer of Northern Michigan Denies Stories.

News-Times Special Service: PETOSKEY, Mich., Feb. 28.—The State Pioneer and Historical society got a jolt when Archibald Butters of Charlevoix, oldest pioneer of northern Michigan, in a speech before the society, declared that the Marquette trail is only a myth.

Mr. Butters said when he came to Petoskey the trail, which is now marked by a handsome boulder, was nowhere to be seen. The only path used by the Indians was a trail along the water's edge, he said. Father Marquette, if he ever traversed the spot marked by the boulder, did so in the latter part of the 17th century and the trail was never known as the Marquette trail until so named by Capt. H. O. Rose, about 50 years ago.

Judge Palthorpe shattered another supposition when he said there had been established a saw and grist mill at McGulpin's Point, near Mackinaw City, in 1795 or 1800, and a land grant of 800 acres given by the government at Patrick McGulpin. It has been the belief that no land grant had been issued to white settlers before about 1860.

DETROITERS TO GIVE AIRCRAFT TO STATE

Will Present Aeroplane to National Guard in That City.

News-Times Special Service: LANSING, Mich., Feb. 28.—Gov. Ferris has received a letter from the Aero Club of America by its president, Alan R. Hawley, of New York City, requesting him to commission an officer of the Michigan National guard to attend one of the aviation schools to be conducted by an eastern aeroplane company.

The Aero club will pay $40 towards defraying the expense of training the officer from Michigan, and according to the letter, it is planned to obtain an officer from each of the 48 states.

The Michigan National guard has no aviation corps, for the principal reason that it owns no aeroplane. However, Col. John S. Hersey, adjutant general of the state militia, has received word that a group of Detroit men have plans to buy an aeroplane and turn it over to the national guard.

If the Detroit sportsmen carry out their proposed plan, a number of aviators will be recruited in that city and officers of the guard who are willing to enter this branch of the service will be instructed in the art of flying by men obtained through the Detroit organization.

Col. Hersey says an aviation corps would be of great benefit to the Michigan National guard. As a result of the plan presented by the Detroit men, the military department will not recommend to the governor that the offer of the Aero club be accepted.

SUMMER RESORTS TO UNDERGO INSPECTION

Health Board to Look Into Causes of Typhoid at Indiana Lakes.

International News Service: INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 28.—During the coming summer the department of the Indiana state board of health will conduct a sanitary survey of the summer resorts in Indiana according to an announcement today from H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner. During the past few years great numbers of cases of typhoid fever have been called to the attention of the board, cases which have developed after persons returned home from resorts on a summer vacation.

In a discussion today of the board's plans, Dr. J. N. Hurty said: "Persons going on their vacations take a delight in 'roughing it.' They try to get back to nature by doing away with many of the luxuries of civilization and frequently go to the extreme of doing away with the essentials of sanitation. They take their supply of water from a shallow well of unknown quality. The surroundings of this well may be of the very worst. Occasionally instead of a water supply from a well, lake water is used. The same lake is used to bathe in and sometimes as a sewer outlet."

"The cottagers are not the only lax ones in the essentials of sanitation. Frequently the hotel operators are to blame. Some of the hotels take their water supply from the lake where sewage is disposed of. Under such conditions it is not surprising that patrons of the hotel who drink the water contract typhoid."

GOVERNOR URGES
NEW PENAL FARM

Would Control All Institutions From One Board and Save Money.

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Feb. 28.—The Hamilton County Social Welfare conference opened a two days' session in this city Sunday afternoon with an address by Gov. Ralston, who advocated placing all of the penal institutions of Indiana under the control of one central board.

One thousand persons crowded the church to hear the governor, who devoted practically all of his remarks to plans for the establishment of this central board. He pointed out that by purchasing supplies for all of the institutions at once instead of separately the state could save from $200,000 to $500,000 annually.

"This is not a hobby with me," said Gov. Ralston. "It is a matter of dollars and cents in which the taxpayers should be interested. All so an investment of $13,600,000 which Indiana has made in the 18 penal institutions of the state, can be managed to a better advantage by one central board rather than 18 boards. One member of this board should be an attorney and I am not opposed to appointing one woman on the board."

Digressing slightly from his theme Gov. Ralston pleaded for more power for the governor to help in the wave of social uplift that is prevailing throughout the state.

"It is too late to give me the power," he said, "but I would like to see it given to my successor. If you people don't give the governor more authority, then I say to you right here that you must show greater interest and activity in law enforcement in this and other communities."
